► What is PBIS?

PBIS stands for positive behavioral interventions and supports. There are three main components of PBIS. They are teaching appropriate behavior in hall settings, provide interventions when behavior expectations are not met, and recognizing students when behavior expectations are met.

PBIS is a team based school-wide design for discipline which includes all students and all staff in all settings. It is a program that can be upgraded as we go along to better meet the needs of our student population by using the results of surveys completed by students, parents, and staff and the analysis of discipline data.

PBIS Core Values

PBIS has three core values:

Be Respectful-includes following directions, keeping hands and feet to yourself, using appropriate language, and raising your hand

Be Responsible-some examples are actively participating, carrying a valid hall pass, and using equipment appropriately

Be Safe-includes walking on the right hand side of the hallway, entering and exiting the building in an orderly fashion, and reporting any incidents.

Students are expected to honor these core values in various school and school related settings including the classroom, hallways, library, cafeteria, bathrooms, buses and school grounds.

What Makes PBIS different?

The focus of this program is acknowledging and rewarding students for consistent positive behavior. The teachers at Silverton Middle School have on going supports and training on PBIS's core values. Students are set up for success by being pre-taught expectations and by having consistent expectations and language used through out the building. Students are recognized for positive behavior through daily announcements and at our monthly spirit assemblies through "Fantastic Falcon" awards. Student success is also celebrated through meeting school wide goals, for example we have a tardy goal before winter break and we are going to celebrate as a school if we can all work together to improve getting to class on time. Students not following the core values are issued consequences based on our student PBIS behavior flowchart, which lists the steps of interventions for each time a behavior infraction occurs. All students want to do well!
